Allied Troops Make New Gain In Italian Campaign

American Troops Seize Three Miles Of Vital Ground

Captured Site Dominates Highway And Railroad From Capua To Rome

WEDGE IS DRIVEN INTO ENEMY LINE

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIERS, Oct. 25.—American troops of the Fifth Army were revealed today to have seized three miles of vital high ground dominating the highway and railroad from Capua to Rome.

Seizing the town of Sparanise, Gen. Mark W. Clark's Yanks drove a dangerous wedge into enemy lines and threatened to outflank Nazi troops holding a canal a few miles north of the Volturno river mouth, on the Tyrrhenian coast.

Moving Slowly Forward
Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced that British troops of the Fifth Army facing the Nazis on the west coast are inching slowly forward in a frontal push against the Nazis' Massico ridge line.

On the Adriatic coast, Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's British Eighth Army was disclosed to have improved their newly won bridgeheads across the Trigno river and made steady progress all along the front.

Front dispatches indicated that American troops of the Fifth Army's right wing had driven to within 16 miles of Venafro, inland anchor base of the German main ridge line, and are nudging steadily forward in a drive threatening to unhinge the Nazis' southern defenses of Rome.

Other American troops in the western sector of the Fifth Army front captured Sparanise, giving the Yanks high ground positions five miles north of the canal where the British and Germans are battling.

Threat To Nazi Flank
The new American positions about 16 miles inland, pose a strong threat to the Nazi flank on the west coast and may force Field Marshal Albert Kesselring to abandon his canal defenses, thus speeding a general Nazi retreat all along the front.

Alarmed at the Yanks' success, German armor, infantry and artillery yesterday launched four rapid and successive counter-attacks. The

Moscow Delegates Start Practical Tasks

By NATALIA RENE
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Oct. 25.—Delegates to the tri-power conference now under way at Moscow settled down today to the more practical tasks confronting them, safe in the knowledge that their exploratory preliminary talks have been concluded satisfactorily.

Throughout the week-end the diplomatic and military representatives from Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union continued to work, ignoring even the usual Sunday holiday.

Experts on the staffs of British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, American Secretary of State Cordell

Hull and Russian Commissar for Foreign Affairs Vyacheslav K. Molotov began to draw up detailed papers concerning problems which must be reduced to writing for purposes of clarification.

Sky Blazes With Flares
First stages of this week began after dinner Saturday and continued until after 2 a. m. Sunday even while the Moscow sky blazed with flares honoring the Soviet recapture of Melitopol, gateway to the Crimea.

Both Eden and Hull watched the 20-volley salvo fired from 224 guns as they stood on the balconies of their respective embassies.

Saturday night most of the American night most of the American

Southern Austria Target Of Raiders In Latest Attacks

Believe Blasts Made By Allied Bombers Based On Captured Italian Fields

RUHR-RHINELAND ARE ALSO BOMBED

By LEO V. DOLAN
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Speedy British Mosquito bombers were disclosed today to have pounded the Ruhr and Rhineland of western Germany without loss during the night.

The night operations, which also included mining of enemy waters came in the wake of a furious day-long offensive in which fleets of warplanes pounded Hitler's base from both west and south.

An official Axis communiqué confirmed Axis reports that southern Austria was bombed yesterday by British-based American Marauder bombers in great strength simultaneously stabbed into the continent as far inland as the Paris-Amiens region of France.

Tell Of Austrian Raids
Enemy broadcasts meanwhile told of the war's first air assaults against Styria, the "Austrian Ruhr," and on targets in the Danube valley of Hungary by 500 allied warplanes.

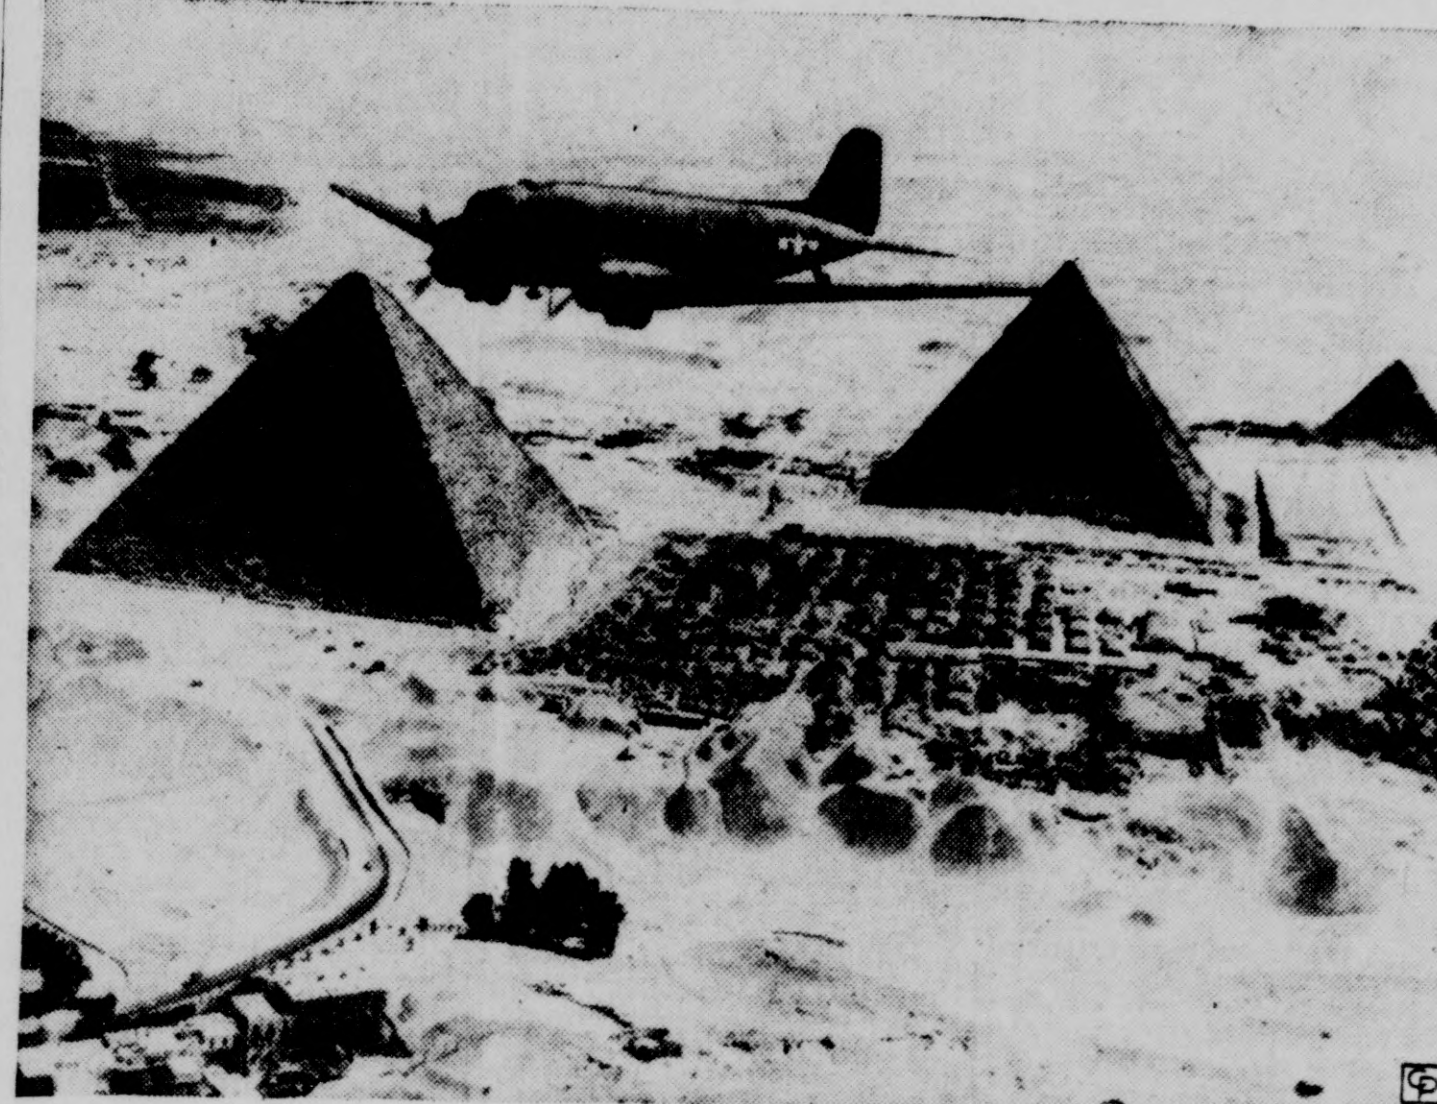

The attacks were believed carried out by American heavy bombers and fighters based on recently captured Italian airfields.

The Stockholm newspaper Svenska Dagbladet, in a dispatch from the Hungarian capital of Budapest, said strong formations of Anglo-American bombers were reported to have taken off from the Italian air base at Foggia, bombed Austria and then flew on to England in a "reverse shuttle bombing raid."

The German DNB agency said Zagreb, capital of the Croat puppet regime in Yugoslavia, had a two-bombing raid.

Million German Troops Are Facing Disaster Threat

Massive Twin-Pronged Soviet Offensive Moves Westward In Russia

ESCAPE ROUTES OF NAZIS BEING TAKEN

By NATALIA RENE
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Oct. 25.—A massive twin-pronged Soviet offensive threatened more than a million Nazi troops with disaster of Stalingrad proportions today after powerful Russian columns rolled to within six miles of Krivoi Rog and plunged westward in a new drive from Melitopol.

Soviet big guns are shelling the Krivoi Rog railroad junction and Nazi reinforcements are being hurled into a furious battle at the last lines of defense north of the city, Soviet press dispatches declared.

Sever Another Escape Route
Capture of Lozovatka, six miles north of the great railway and iron mining center of Krivoi Rog, severed yet another of the escape routes for a huge German army virtually trapped in the eastern loop of the Dnieper Bend near Dnepropetrovsk.

"The Nazi-operated Paris radio, reporting that Soviet troops have broken into Krivoi Rog, declared a 'vicious battle' is raging in the streets of the Nazi bottleneck junction."

the south, other Russian columns smashed six miles west from captured Melitopol toward the Dnieper mouth and the Black Sea in a campaign to liberate the Crimea.

Heaviest fighting of the day raged on this southern front, where the Russians killed more than 2,000 Nazis and reached the strategic Melitopol-Zaporozhe railroad at several points. On all fronts along the blazing thousand-mile battle line, more than 3,500 German troops

Former Sheriff Ingham Named To Take Post

Appointed By Sheriff Badger To Act During His Absence In Service

DEPUTY SHERIFF DEAN HAS RESIGNED

Sheriff Clyde D. Badger announced today that former Sheriff M. M. "Cy" Ingham has been appointed chief deputy sheriff and will act as sheriff during Sheriff Badger's service in the United States Navy, or until the end of the present term, which expires January 1, 1946.

At the same time Sheriff Badger announced that he had accepted the resignation of Chief Deputy George Dean, who intends to devote his entire time to his farm in Slippery Rock township.

Served Four Years

Acting as sheriff will be nothing new to Mr. Ingham. He served as sheriff of Lawrence county for the four years between January 1, 1938, and January 1, 1942. Mrs. Clyde D. Badger, wife of the sheriff, will continue to serve as matron of the jail.

Recently Sheriff Badger enlisted in the Seabees, the construction battalion of the United States Navy. He will be inducted as a petty officer.

PRESIDENT IMPROVES FROM GRIP ATTACK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(INS)

President Roosevelt was steadily improving today from a slight attack of grip which caused him to cancel all appointments since last Friday and confined him to bed for two days.

Admiral Ross McIntyre, White House physician, reported this morning the president now has less than a degree of temperature and is "still a little achy" from the attack of grip, but is expected to be out of bed and in his study this afternoon.

Wage Controversy In Critical Week

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The explosive coal labor dispute entered its most critical week today since last summer's general line strikes.

Developments of the next few days may bring a settlement of the six-month-old controversy or touch off a fourth paralyzing shutdown of coal production.

The War Labor Board concentrated its full attention on the coal problem with the nation on the eve of winter and government authorities gravely concerned over the adequacy of the fuel supply.

Would Be Dangerous
One top Washington official—Charles E. Wilson, executive vice-chairman of W.P.B.—warned that another general strike now would be even more dangerous than the work stoppages of last spring and summer.

"Surely no American wants to see our steel plants closed down for lack of coal or wants to see our shipyards idle or wants to see our munitions held up that are needed for the fighting overseas," Wilson said.

It is a key problem that concerns every American right now. As Wilson spoke, some 35,000 coal miners already were out on "wildcat" strikes.

British Caution Against Reports Of Nazi Collapse

Reports Flow Into London From Dozen Sources About German Home Front

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Reports flowed into London from a dozen sources today stressing the possibility of an early collapse on the German home front.

British officialdom continued to caution against Allied over-optimism. Adolf Hitler still has many resources to fall back upon, they pointed out, and one dispatch received in London said he would soon announce formation of a pro-Nazi confederation of Balkan states as an answer to the tripartite negotiations now under way in Moscow.

Neutral Capital Reports
But the fact remains that all neutral capitals, including Ankara, Stockholm and Bern, are hearing daily that German home front morale is crumbling and that Hitler himself is now beginning to feel

PA NEW OBSERVES

Don't waste food. It is most vital in winning the war.

One week from tomorrow is election day in New Castle and Lawrence County. Indications are that there will be a light vote cast as there are few contests for the offices in the city and county.

Registration for ration book No. 4 was started in New Castle and Lawrence County today, along with the remainder of the nation. Elementary schools are being used in the city and public schools in the county areas. Ration book No. 3 must be presented in order to get the new ration book, residents are reminded.

Rains of the past few days will aid in cutting down the hazard from possible fires during the coming hunting season. For some weeks previous to the last woods and fields were exceedingly dry.

Announcement was made at Washington yesterday that sale of turkeys to civilians will not be allowed. However, indications are that locally raised turkeys will not be as plentiful as in recent years.

WIFE OF OFFICER IN ROYAL AIR FORCE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A dashing young RAF cadet was detained today for questioning in the bloody Beckman Place murder of the beautiful heiress with whom he eloped two years ago despite family objection.

Acting Deputy Chief of Detectives Patrick J. Kenney announced the arrest at his training field barracks in Toronto, Ont., of 26-year-old Wayne Lonergan, husband of the lovely victim of the third murder in fashionable Beckman Place in the past few years.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Alec detectives and high police officials today questioned cafe society figures mentioned in the diary of an RAF officer's 22-year-old wife whose nude body was found, bludgeoned to death, in the locked bedroom of her luxuriously furnished midtown apartment.

The victim was Mrs. Patricia Burton Lonergan, who occupied a lavishly-appointed three-floor apartment in 51st street, near Second avenue, with her year-old son and the latter's governess.

Police attached considerable importance to the diary.

Says Two Sons, Injures His Wife, Commits Suicide

Gary, Ind., Man Reported As Committing Crimes Result Of Draft Worry

GARY, Ind., Oct. 25.—(INS)

Months of worry about possible induction into the army drove John Birkich, 31-year-old steel welder, to slay his two sons with a butcher knife, slash his wife so badly she may die, and then shoot himself to death, police said today.

Investigators reported they learned Birkich, employed at the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, was morose because he feared his induction would break up his family.

His wife, Mary, 26, was in serious condition at a Gary hospital with her arms and back deeply slashed. Her two dead sons were James, 6, and John Peter, 3.

Mrs. Birkich said her husband worked six days a week and never drank or gambled, but had seemed worried for the last week.

"We were sitting in our upstairs parlor and John was quietly reading," she said. "Suddenly he jumped up from his chair, dashed his paper to the floor and ran downstairs to my mother's kitchen."

"He came back almost immediately with a butcher knife in his hand. He seized John Peter and slashed his throat. Then he slashed at me several times as I ran out onto the front steps screaming."

In the interval before a neighbor had called the police, Birkich evidently cut the throat of the other son, James, and barricaded himself in an upstairs room where he placed a shotgun to his mouth and pulled the trigger.

R. R. Brotherhood Leaders Assemble

Reconvene Following Approval Of Plan To Take Strike Vote

MACHINERY SET UP FOR ACTION

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—General chairman of the "big five" operating railroad brotherhoods reconvened today following approval of a strike vote and a decision to set up machinery for polling their 350,000 members.

Highlight of yesterday's conferences in Chicago was the action of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen in approving demands for sweeping revisions of working rules which the brotherhood said would discourage waste and hoarding of manpower and widen the system of incentive pay on the nation's railroads.

The brotherhood's chairman, representing 200,000 workers, voted unanimously to submit the question of rule changes to a referendum of the membership. The changes would authorize the brotherhood's president and wage committee to make demands on the carriers and empower the bargaining officers to call a strike to enforce the demands.

This action, without precedent since the passage of the railway labor act, would join the new issue of rules with that of wages upon which the trainmen and the four other brotherhoods in the "big five" already have acted.

In deciding to poll their membership in a strike vote, the brotherhoods rejected the 4-cents-an-hour wage increase granted them in September and recommended Oct. 16 by Fred M. Vinson, director of economic stabilization. The wage increase goes into effect today.

Original demands of the brotherhoods called for a 30 per cent increase.

With all major railroads involved and each local unit on all roads to be polled, the strike vote will take about 30 days to complete. Even if the strike is approved by the membership, machinery under the railway labor act would delay considerably a walkout by the brotherhoods.

In Washington last week, the 15 non-operating railroad unions which also are seeking a wage increase, withheld action, presumably awaiting the outcome of the Chicago conference.

were wiped out vainly attempting to check the Russians' westward surge toward the Polish border.

Towns And Villages Fall

On the middle Dnieper front, where the huge Krivoi Rog junction faced imminent capture, more than 50 towns and villages inside the Dnieper river loop fell before the Russian drive. Paced by a furious air offensive over the fighting zone, the Red Army swarmed through an ever widening gap in Nazi lines to close in on Krivoi Rog from the north and northeast.

(In the far north, Berlin admitted that the Russians have launched a new push on the northwestern front. Quoted by Swedish correspondents, a Berlin spokesman acknowledged that Soviet breakthroughs have been scored in the German line near Orsha, on the Leningrad-Gomel-Kiev railroad.)

In the Gomel area, linking the Dnieper and White Russian fronts, Moscow announced that 1,500 Nazi troops were killed launching 20 futile counter-attacks against Soviet forces south of Rechitsa, 23 miles southwest of the Gomel anchor base.

Fighter-bombers attacked landing craft in Neretjanski channel and a 5,000-ton enemy ship and two barges at Kordola Island, leaving them aflame.

It was disclosed that at dusk Saturday Allied nightfighters took wing and shot down three Junkers, part of a small force of German bombers which came over the Naples area.

R.A.F. Wellington bombers topped off the week-end with a 1,500-mile round trip to drop their explosive loads on the marshalling yards at Pistoia, northwest of Florence.

WAGE CONTROVERSY IN CRITICAL WEEK

cat" strikes in seven states—Alabama, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Arkansas.

Given Ultimatum

The 20,000 strikers in Alabama were given an ultimatum to return to work today. Both the W.L.B. and United Mine Workers international officials watched anxiously to determine to what extent the order would be obeyed. The first sign of a "break" came when 1050 men at Republic Steel Corporation's two Sayreton mines voted to return to their jobs.

The W.L.B. served notice that the Alabama case would be certified to the White House for action if the defiant southern miners failed to return to the pits. Such a step might mean government seizure of the Alabama mines or possible sanctions against the strikers themselves.

A decision also was awaited momentarily on the proposed contract between Illinois coal operators and the U.M.W., which could serve as a pattern for a new wage agreement for the entire industry. Both mine owners and miners waited tensely to see whether the board would approve or disapprove the contract.

Over the week-end the W.L.B. disposed of the critical Los Angeles Electric Railway case in order to clear its decks for action on the Illinois matter. The U.M.W.'s "no-strike" pledge expires next Sunday.

No wonder publishing is a gamble. One popular book is entrancing and another best seller is such dishwater you can't wade through it.

While nothing official has been disclosed concerning the precise progress of the conference, it is understood from American sources that "there is every reason to be quite optimistic".

Overcome Difficulties

The magazine war and the working class, regarded as the semi-official sounding board for authoritative opinion, in an editorial yesterday said that the conference is destined to overcome the "considerable difficulties" connected with the many practical problems connected with winning the war and setting up a workable post-war organization.

All difficulties now standing in the way can be overcome, the magazine predicted, if the conference will express its determination to thwart Hitler's plans for a long-drawn-out war.

The publication asserted that no

REPORT MUSSOLINI WILL BROADCAST

LONDON, Oct. 25.—(INS)—A dispatch from the Italo-Swiss border town of Chiasso reported today that Benito Mussolini will broadcast Thursday on the 21st anniversary of the Fascist march on Rome that resulted in his assumption of the premiership of Italy.

The dispatch was published by the Zurich newspaper La Suisse and quoted by Reuters.

future system of international security will be possible without the complete unity of all the leading states. The collaboration of Britain, Russian and America are vital, the magazine declared as it called for a long-term agreement among those powers to ensure the peace of Europe and the world.

China and "any other opponents of aggression" also would be welcome to join the agreement "to prevent any possibility of new armed actions in any part of the globe," the magazine added.

Succussions that Britain and the United States build a post-war peace system alone were criticized as making for "a lop-sided plan".

LAW-COLNOT WEDDING OF INTEREST LOCALLY

Stately lighted Cathedral candles in branching candelabra enhanced the beautifully embanked altar of Westminster Presbyterian church for the marriage of Belinda Law, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Ivan Law of Glenwood avenue, Youngstown, and Cpl. Gilbert H. Colnot, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Colnot of Grosse Pointe Park, Mich., on Saturday afternoon. Colnots were former residents of this city.

White mums against background of greenery, fern and palms, completed the setting where the bridal party exchanged vows, in the presence of a gathering of friends and relatives. Rev. Paul Gauss, pastor, officiated.

Appropriate nuptial music was provided by Mrs. J. W. Hornberger, organist, preceding and during the ceremony.
The bride, a member of the faculty of Chaney school, chose a white broaded damask gown, with fingertip illusion veil caught in coronet effect. She carried a shower bouquet of roses centered with a single white orchid.

Miss Jean McDowell of Jamestown, Pa., was her cousin's maid of honor. She wore green damask with a deeper shade of green velvet forming the bodice, and her flowery were of gold chrysanthemums. Miss Nancy McDowell, also of Jamestown, and a cousin of the bride, appeared in autumn brown and gold damask with a matching arm bouquet.

Jack Kenehan of this city served as best man. Ushers included Harry Carlson and Harry Sarver of Mercer.
Gold and white mums were used in the decorative theme for the candlelit buffet table, at the reception held in the bride's home afterwards.

The couple left later on a trip east and upon returning, Cpl. Colnot will resume his duties with the medical corps at Camp Shelby, Miss., while his bride will remain with her parents for the present. Mrs. Colnot attended Westminster and Youngstown colleges and her husband was a student at Oberlin.

Present from New Castle at the wedding were the following: Mrs. R. A. Bailey, Sr., Mrs. R. A. Bailey, Jr., Mrs. Gilbert A. Cox, Mrs. C. E. Gee, Mr. and Mrs. N. Colnot and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kenehan.

Why VICKS Is So Good For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason...

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

The Parent Problem

By Gary C. Myers, Ph. D.

UNLOVING CHILD DISTRESSES MOTHER

If you were in the place of the mother who wrote the following letter, you would know the heartaches she reveals. No matter how sure we are that we know why such tragedies develop, we won't be so cruel as to say, "It's your own fault." Always the problem is, "What is the thing to do from now on?"

"Dear Dr. Myers—I do need help so badly, and I would be ashamed to confess to a friend or relative that my daughter doesn't love me. My husband wanted me out of the house when he found me in tears and wanted to know the reason. He had several talks with her, but didn't get much satisfaction and I can notice very little improvement. She has always been a dutiful daughter to him and is not ugly to me when he is around.

"But when he is out of sight and hearing she is sarcastic and insolent to an unbearable degree. She has gone on for four years. She is intelligent, pretty when she isn't pouting, gets the best grades in school, in perfect health and enjoys her piano lessons. It happens that all the children in our neighborhood are younger than she, and most of them are boys. She likes to play with them, so she can boss them, I suppose. She does not enjoy going to school meetings and Sunday school where she associates with girls her age.

Child's Unnatural Attitude
"Up to now I have tried to appear indifferent when she sneers or expresses disgust toward me, but there's no remedy. It doesn't make her kind. I suppose she knows she has hurt me whether she sees a tear in my eye or not, and she seems smugly satisfied, as if she has achieved her goal.

"I have tried to fill my mind with other interests but I have no other children to occupy my time. And now that I know she is heartbreak one, I bring, I'm glad I haven't any other.

"Do you think there is any hope of her outgrowing this unnatural attitude? Shall I continue to do my best to ignore her insults or treat them lightly? A self-addressed stamped envelope is enclosed."

The Doctor's Reply
In the first place, you probably imagine a great deal. It really might be easier for you if your husband were not such a favorite with the girl. Without knowing it, you probably suffer some jealousy over their mutual affection. This, in turn, stirs up antagonism between you and the child.

You should be too proud to let her know you feel hurt at any thing she says or does. Why let yourself feel hurt? When she does wrong, or speaks in an insulting manner to you, say nothing ugly back. If it is some definite insulting language, assign her to sit in a chair doing nothing where you can see her for exactly one hour. Let her get discomfort from her nastiness. Don't argue, lecture or scold or tell her she must not love you since she acts so ugly. Never talk back to her.

Study with your husband a program for her control and stick to it. Attract some girls of her age to your home and be a good hostess to them and your daughter. Try to be a good companion to her. Prove to her you enjoy what she tells you about her interests and experiences. Try to make her feel you consider her an important, worthy member of the family.

As you know, you can coerce a child to love you; you must win her love.

Solving Parents Problems
Q. My six year old is always leaving his coat, hat, or mitts somewhere on the playground and forgetting where he left them.
A. Make clear to him once that each time he comes into the house without some article of clothing he will have to pay a definite penalty. A good one might be to have him sit in a chair doing nothing for exactly an hour for each offense. Let there be no exception.

Q. Would you punish a seven-year-old child, if you thought it necessary in order to get him to bed on time?
A. A child this age might profit from punishment in such a situation. Announce to him the exact hour for his bed time and make him responsible for being in bed at that time with the lights out. The first evening he is a minute late in bed assign him to sit in a chair where you can see him doing nothing for exactly one hour. Do likewise the next night and the next for the slightest tardiness, not permitting a single exception, and acting as if your lips were sealed with adhesive tape.

Q. I have a girl nine years old and a boy four. Please tell me how to go about helping my girl improve in reading in which subject she failed last term.
A. Induce this girl, even hire her at a few cents per 15 minute period to read to her brother to entertain him. Perhaps no tutor could do so much to aid your daughter to improve her reading. My special bulletin, "Home Helps for Poor Readers, Part I," may be had by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

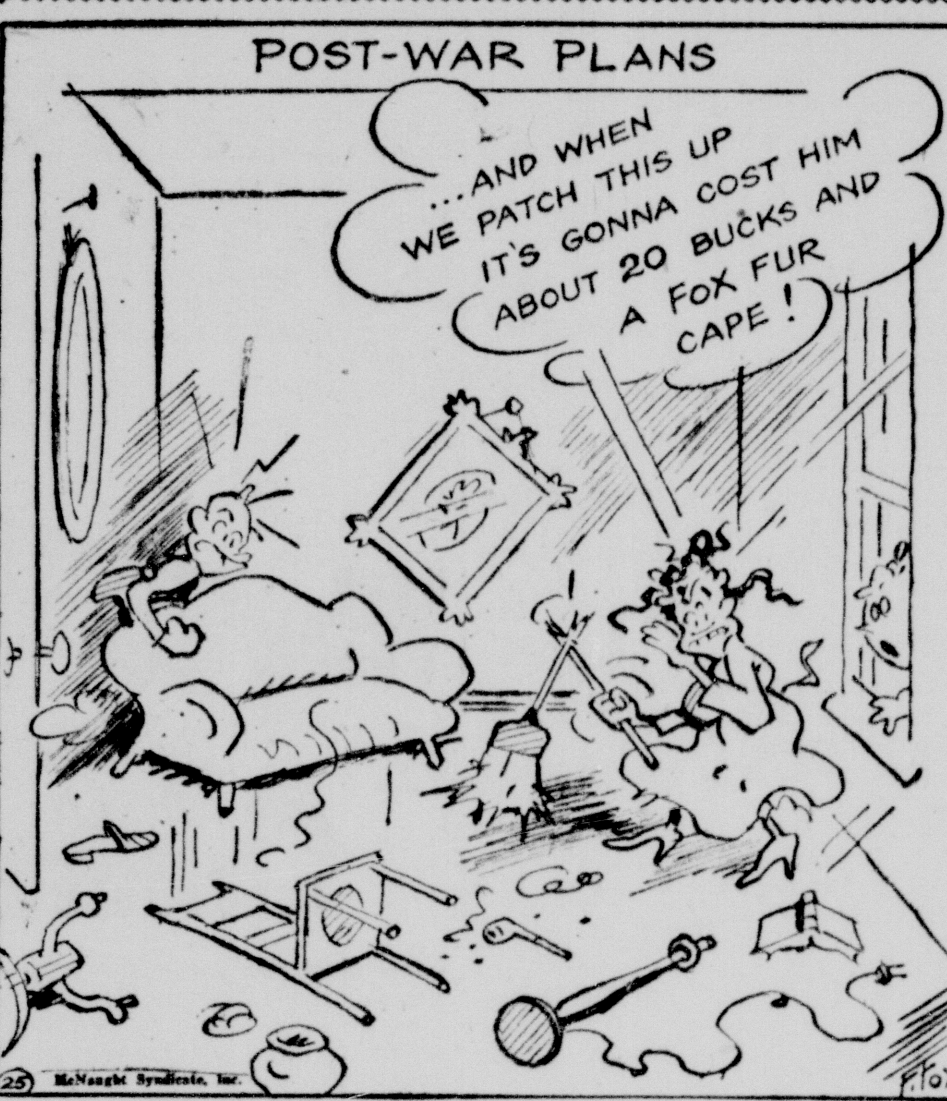

Hints On Etiquette
Don't marry a soldier or sailor you have just met just because he begs you to because he is lonesome and upset. Think of your people. Think of his. Think what it will mean when he comes back—a practical stranger to you—and don't do it. Among other things, it's not the sporting thing to do.

Middle age is that distressing period when you wonder if that liver spot on your jaw is a cancer.

REFLECTIONS OF A SWING SHIFTER:
It started as a pastime and grew to be a habit... a fellow in the shop enlisted and went to training camp early in 1941—months before Pearl Harbor... so I started writing him... 'dishing up the dirt' of the shop and town gossip... then a near relative put on a uniform and I had to write to him. They all like to get letters from their mothers, sisters and best (and worst) girls, but they are hungry too for man-to-man letters from the fellows they knew and worked with.

So now I have quite a collection of letters to write to our men in the services and although they cannot write as freely as they might, they do write some very interesting letters and bunched the ideas altogether, this is what I believe the men want after they come home.

First: They all want to get home before the war is over so they can visit the war plants and see how the things they've used are made. (And I've a hunch a lot of them want to parade about their old 'haunts' in their uniform.)

Second: A big wish is to be able to take a two months' vacation... no duties... no job... no obligations of any kind... just to be able to rest and relax and do as they 'darn well please'.

Third: They want to 'spend a lot of time' in reading and studying to qualify themselves for a better job than they had before they joined up.

Fourth: They have heard a lot about how America is being made over into a sort of 'state socialism' and they don't like it one tiny, little bit. They all promise to do something about it when they get back and have their right to vote again. (I've always thought they were to be allowed to vote in the next election.) And while they aren't so very much interested in local or even state elections, they are interested in the coming presidential election.

They all have some very well-informed ideas on international politics, and this 'business of lease-lend'.

Yes, it is interesting to write to our men in the services and to feel that all are not 'dumb bells'. Indeed, they are far from that—the dumbbells are the ones who won't see the handwriting on the wall.

KNOW YOUR AMERICA

A class of school children in a mid-western state was required to draw a picture of the 'State Seal'. There wasn't one available at the school library or the public library, so they had to write to the State capital to get a copy.

Do you know the seal of your state?

Do you know your state flag?

Do you know the 'nick name' of your state?

What is your state 'flower'?

What is your state bird?

Every American school child should be able to answer each of these questions but few can.

Can you?

Each state has chosen an 'official bird' by virtue of choices made by women's clubs and the Audubon Societies.

Alabama has the 'yellow hammer'—often called the 'flicker'. Utah chose the seal Gull; Maryland, the Baltimore Oriole; Louisiana, the brown pelican; Florida, with its abundance of tropical birds, to select from, chose the mockingbird.

Arkansas, Mississippi and Texas each chose the mockingbird. Seven states: Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, both Dakotas, Wyoming and Oregon, have the meadow lark.

Colorado has chosen the Lark bunting, while New York and Missouri have the bluebird. Nevada and Idaho, the mountain bluebird.

The cardinal was chosen by Delaware, Kentucky and Illinois.

The robin is favored by Michigan, Wisconsin and Virginia.

Four states have adopted game birds: Rhode Island and Oklahoma chose the Bob White, Pennsylvania, the ruffed grouse, and California, the California quail.

The willow goldfinch was the choice of the state of Washington while the goldfinch was designated by Minnesota and New Jersey.

Arizona favored the cactus wren, one of the choicest of small birds, while New Mexico favored the road runner.

Main and North Carolina each favored the chickadee—the very bird was selected by Massachusetts, Ohio and South Carolina each favors the wren, New Hampshire, the purple finch while West Virginia decided upon the tufted titmouse. Vermont and the District of Columbia favor the thrush.

The whip-poor-will—the nearest to the nightingale in this country—was not selected by any state although it is found in nearly every state.

Why not clip this information out and give it to some school child? His teacher will be glad to have it and to see how much her class really knows about their native state.

Most any old thing that has been lying around in places and thought no good can be made good use of now. Look around your place for them.

It often seems that the bigger the job a man holds the more he is criticized.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A rose by any other name—Mrs. Mildred Anselmo, of Ritters, Mass., wanted her new-born baby boy to choose his own name.

So she wrote 25 boys' names on 25 cards and placed them before him.

He clutched 'Andrew', and Andrew Anselmo it will be from now on.

I certainly think that is a better way of picking names than the way lots of parents go about it.

My folks, for instance, gave me a name according to which I should have been a hero, a conqueror, an explorer.

Eric the Red, you know.

Instead, look at me. Sitting in a chair, scribbling for a living not too much to look at.

The only thing I have ever explored is the refrigerator, and when it comes to heroism, I'm even afraid of my wife.

I always feel sorry for the poor, ordinary people who carry fancy names around with them.

There's a fellow I know whom his folks named Basil, meaning King. He's a bald-headed little guy, has a farm that isn't paying and is about as kindly as my backback, who, by the way, is named Caesar.

One of the homeliest and most ill-mannered girls I know answers to the name Patricia (although most of the time she is too ornery to answer at all).

Whatever impelled ill-guided mamas and papas to name their offspring Percival, Algernon or Waldo?

What girl would choose the name of Gladys, Edna or Sophrosina if she had her own way?

We have a faithful old maid from the deep South who proudly named her grandchild Dolores the other day.

Dolores will be good and sore when she grows up.

And yet let us forgive our folks. They all see conquerors and kings in us. They all dream of glamour and glory for their children.

The less they've had themselves, the more they want it in their sons and daughters.

Even if my folks had named me Franklin Delano Brandeis, I'm sure I would have never been a president.

But if I had a daughter, I might name her Eleanor at that.

Only I'd want her to stay home every once in a while.

Good Taste
U. S. Patent Office (By FRANCIS MARKEE)

ORGANIZING U. S. O. CLUB
There is no U. S. O. club near our neighboring army camp. How should a group of us girls proceed to organize one?—Beatrice.

Answer: First, write to your state's U. S. O. headquarters, for full instructions. Choose a managing director who should contact schools, colleges, business firms, and church clubs asking them to recommend suitable hostesses.

Carefully investigate each girl thus nominated for hostess service. The admission of one with a bad reputation or actions that violate taste will seriously threaten the success of your club. Arrange a meeting of all of your hostesses and equal number of men previously instructed to report to your managing director as to which hostesses are good and which mediocre or poor dancers.

Select only those "good" who dance hostesses, reserving the remaining girls for other duties, such as the decoration of the dance hall, donation or preparation of sandwiches, cookies, cakes, soft drinks and cigarettes at the service bar.

All hostesses must arrive at and leave your club in a group and none must make outside dates with any service men, under penalty of having their tickets to the club cancelled.

Club rules must be strictly enforced by the managing director and a group of older hostesses serving as chaperones.

The schedule may be arranged for weekly, semi-weekly or more frequent dances always in the evening. Your clubs should be open also each afternoon. When there are no dances, the hostesses should entertain informally at gin rummy, bridge, checkers or other games. Some of the best organized U. S. O. clubs in the country provide dark-rooms for camera addicts, reading rooms to which are donated magazines, novels and text books on foreign languages or technical subjects for servicemen. Two of the most essential items of U. S. O. equipment are a typewriter and a good recording machine and your members can be kept busy collecting records as well as books and magazines; tickets to theaters, movies, games, radio broadcasts, lectures and sight-seeing trips. No one should be unwilling to take her turn at stenography, typing, mending or waiting on the table.

Tomorrow — Self-Improvement.
Most of us are sure now that Mussolini is crazy.

So are the paths of all that forget God; and the hypocrite's hope shall perish.—Job 8:13.

The generals know best, but why use a light force to hit a weak spot, thus warning the enemy to strengthen it, instead of waiting till we can seize and hold it?

Even the free are awed by power and place. No matter how stupid a big shot was last year, we still think him great because he has a big job.

We can't weaken the European front, but we can send more planes and guns to China by trying harder here at home—and we'd better do it soon.

Inside Washington

Mrs. Roosevelt Sees Darker Side Of Warfare
Last Trip Abroad Has Changed President's Wife
First Lady Tells Story Of Great War Tragedy

By HELEN ESSARY

Central Press Columnist.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A few months ago I wrote a sharp criticism of Mrs. Roosevelt. In one of her newspaper columns she had described a visit to a west coast hospital. Her acceptance of the suffering of maimed fighting men seemed to me both heartless and shocking.

Today, I could not write another such criticism of Mrs. Roosevelt. It isn't that I have changed my own attitude toward war, its stupidity and tragedy. Or that I wish to say "Mrs. Roosevelt is the sort of First Lady the country needs for another four years."

It is that Mrs. Roosevelt has changed. There is a new Eleanor Roosevelt. A war-sick, heart-sick Eleanor Roosevelt.

You yourself may have discovered this new Eleanor Roosevelt in her own newspaper columns. You may have listened to her on the air. You may have seen her somewhere on a train or on a lecture platform.

I glimpsed her when she held her first press conference after her return from the South Pacific. I recognized her completely when she talked to the Red Cross congressional ladies in the Coolidge auditorium of the Library of Congress.

This new Eleanor Roosevelt talked of the war, not in terms of generals and guns. She talked in terms of suffering, frightened boys, heroes and victims of our struggle against the enemy.

Three weeks ago when I mentioned that first press conference glimpse of the new Eleanor Roosevelt to several friends, I said, "Mrs. Roosevelt has come back subdued and deeply thoughtful. That old exuberance is gone."

"Don't be sentimental," I was told. "She is just tired. A 20,000-mile trip is a chore even for her. She'll be her old confident self again before you can say 'Fourth Term.'"

She isn't her old confident self again. Humility has taken the place of intrepidity. The zest for life that sometimes turned into rashness and now into the joke "brooks is gone."

The once dauntless Mrs. Roosevelt is bowed down by the reality of what she saw on that long journey.

The simple, terrible picture she gave her Coolidge auditorium audience of courageous young Americans, homesick and ill in hospitals on far-away islands! And her stories of the "exhausted" "Shells" who were the term in the last war for those stricken in nerves and mind.

Of one of the "exhausted" she repeated an incident that made her listeners ill with horror and helplessness. A Red Cross worker was sent to help a boy, huddled with bent head in a camp far from civilization. The boy was sick in mind and heart. He had not spoken for days. The Red Cross worker hoped she could discover what particular misery was making him dumb.

"You mustn't feel so badly," she said. "It's time to be happy. Soon you'll be going home."

"That's it," cried the boy. "It's home." His voice was thick with despair. "I can't go home."

"You can't go home. Why home is the best place in the world."

"Don't you see," said the boy. "I'm not fit to go home."

"Not fit to go home! You've been one of the bravest men out here."

"I can't go home, I tell you. For five months I've done nothing but kill. I'm not good enough for home." He covered his face with his hands. "For five months I've done nothing but kill."

"Please, please don't feel that way. You have had to kill. Every-

Easing Up On Shush Policy

When Churchill is scheduled to address the House of Commons American correspondents in London sharpen their pencils. They know the chances are they will get some information about the progress of the war—perhaps about the American part in it—that has been suppressed on this side of the water.

Such revelations have so often been made by the British Prime Minister, without imparting to the enemy information advantageous to him, as to arouse sentiment in the United States over the want of frankness on the part of our war managers.

Possibly this resentment has made a dent on Washington's official consciousness. Note that the President in his press conference handed out some hitherto undisclosed facts about the American air raid over Bremen and Vegesack—855 planes and 5,000 crew members engaged; 850,000 miles traveled; 2,500,000 pounds of bombs dropped, and so on.

This bombing raid detail is by no means as sensational as some of the news Churchill hands out; but that it should have been given at all seems significant. It suggests that the President is beginning to turn over in his mind how much information is being withheld from the public that could safely be divulged, and how to go about a loosening of the needless part of the censorship.

The people in this country are not so unreasonable as to wish to be told secrets that must be kept from the enemy, but they chafe over restrictions that seem to be much less tightly drawn in England. After all, it's their war, quite as much as Britain's, and they want to know just as much about its gains and losses, its policy and purposes, as can safely be spread upon the record.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

The World and the Mud Puddles
THE CARGO SAILOR
The men who man the ships of the Merchant Marine are also heroes, but no government medals are handed to them. If their ship is sunk by an enemy torpedo the survivors stick to their job and they are found back again on some other cargo ship. The discipline of the Merchant Marine is good. Their officers, from captain down, prove themselves worthy of their calling and the seamen are just as courageous.

Nevertheless, it is not to be supposed that an able-bodied seaman on these ships does not have moments when he is pretty low in spirit. As an evidence of just how he feels at times an unknown rhyme has conceived and written the following:

I've been sitting here and thinking Of the things I've left behind. And I hate to put on paper What is running through my mind.

We've dived a million bilges And we've chipped ten miles of paint. And a meaner place this side of Hell— Well! They just simply ain't.

But there is one consolation Gather close and I will tell— When we die—We'll go to heaven For we've done our hitch in Hell.

We've stood by endless hours While waiting for our mail. We've stood a million watches And been on all detail.

We've scrubbed a million messhalls And peeled a million "spuds"; We've washed a million hammocks And washed our dirty duds.

The number of inspections stood Is very hard to tell. There'll be no such in heaven For we've done our hitch in Hell.

We've cruised a hundred thousand miles And made a thousand ports. We've spent the night in dirty jails For trying to be sports.

When final taps are sounded And we lay aside life's cares And we've taken our final shore leave Right up that golden stairs.

And the angels will all welcome us And the harps will start to play And we sign a million pay slips To be spent in just one day.

It is then we'll hear St. Peter Greet us loudly with a yell, "Take a front seat, Sailor For you've done your hitch in Hell."

THE PERFECT MAN
The fellow who never had made a mistake Owned nothing whatever of value to break. A dollar not once had he ventured to lose. Of crossroads the right one attempted to choose. He lived all his life safe at home in his chair. And had even evaded the days problems there.

The fellow who never had made a mistake Had not a deed, just for sentiment's sake. Between good and bad he'd made never a choice. Had formed no opinions he'd courage to voice. Yet to miss all the fun of this life in that way Must be blunder enough in itself, I should say.

The fellow who never had made a mistake Had never once tried some improvement to make. He never had bought and he never had sold. Though he breathed he was dead as a monument cold. For mistakes are the steps by which men higher rise. And they're always the proof of the fellow who tries.

RHUBARB
Rhubarb seems to be one of our most popular greens. It has a sharp taste which sharpens up the appetite.

Rhubarb sauce with bread and butter tastes good all the year around.

Rhubarb pie is a pretty good combination. The crust supplies lots of nourishment, and the rhubarb gives the good flavor.

There is one peculiarity about rhubarb. The stalks are good food but the leaves are poison.

On account of being so sour, rhubarb needs a lot of sugar. The sugar supplies the nutriment and the rhubarb the incentive to eat it.

Rhubarb puckers up your face but your usual good natured expression comes back pretty soon.

When good sense finally triumphs over politics, we'll have a sales tax on everything—and each will pay according to what he consumes.

MEETING AN OBLIGATION

LAUNCHED TODAY is the annual Community Chest and United War Fund drive in this community.

The goal for the current campaign is larger than heretofore because of the many increased demands that are made by war conditions, the total sought being $125,000. This is for both the chest and the war fund, the New Castle Community Chest to receive $75,000 and the seventeen national relief agencies included in this year's drive the remaining $50,000.

There is no need to take great space in argument for the success of this drive. It must go over the goal. Every individual has an obligation to see that it does. There is no question of the need of the money sought, and there are few who have any logical reason for failure to support the campaign in greater degree than ever before.

This community has been prompt and generous in all emergencies, and it will be just as prompt and liberal in this instance, it is certain. But, in order to meet the quota imposed subscriptions will have to be larger on the part of the individual than heretofore.

When you make your contribution, remember this fact and increase your subscription.

Declare Mussolini Alone Plunged Italy Into World War

SOMEWHERE IN SOUTHERN ITALY, Oct. 25.—(INS)—Marshal Pietro Badoglio today revealed that he and other Italian military leaders tried to prevent Benito Mussolini from plunging Italy into the war.

But Mussolini was confident that with France prostrate, Italy could step in and grab rich spoil. He ordered his nation into the war, saying:

"In September, 1940, everything will be over and I will need some thousands of dead to be able to sit at the peace table as a belligerent."

DOCTORS WARN CONSTIPATED FOLKS ABOUT LAZY LIVER

Constipation is often accompanied by many discomforts—headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness being but a few. And here's good advice!

For years a noted Ohio Doctor, Dr. F. M. Edwards, successfully relieved scores of patients from constipation with his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now sold by druggists from coast to coast.

Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable, are wonderful! They not only gently yet thoroughly cleanse the bowels but ALSO stir up liver bile flow. Test their goodness TONIGHT to feel "tip-top" in the morning. 15¢, 30¢, 60¢. Follow label directions.

Doctors, nurses and patients know these vehicles of mercy. They serve on the battle fronts. Night and day, they perform their errands of speed and risk bringing rescue and comfort with them wherever they go.

Through its two-way radio equipment, Army officers can locate and report enemy positions; can link up the fighting units of our own forces. This Command Car is low to the ground and hard to see in action.

The "Big Shot"

This big job among the fighting trucks carries larger loads of men and weapons. It is an essential mover of heavy guns as well as troop detachments with their personal weapons and supplies. These big fighters are also capable of fast stump-bumping travel across rough and treacherous country. They, too, have demonstrated Dodge dependability as they work, day and night, for victory in actual battle abroad.

Armour Ideas Make the Most of Meat

Star Pork Sausage Patties Save Time, Points

If wartime activities leave you with less time, here's an idea that'll save minutes... and ration stamps, too! Try Star Pork Sausage with French Toast! It's a hearty, nutritious meal that you can whisk together in 20 minutes!

You'll need 1 pound of sausage to serve 4 or 5 persons. Cut the ingredients proportionately to fix a meal for fewer. When you buy the pork sausage, ask for Armour's Star Pure Pork Sausage. It's a delicious, rich meat... tastily seasoned. And, it's made fresh every day in sausage kitchens throughout the country. Shape pork sausage into 5 or 6 patties and place in a cold frying pan. Turn heat low and fry slowly for 15 minutes, pouring off fat as it accumulates. (And here's a food saving trick: save the fat for your French toast.)

Meanwhile, mix 1 cup milk with 1 beaten egg, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. sugar. Dip half slices of day old bread in this mixture and fry until golden brown in the sausage fat. Serve the toast with tart jelly and sausage patties.

Colecchi Given Heroism Medal

Local Soldier Fired At Japs After Plane Had Been Downed In Sea

According to dispatches from the headquarters of the Alaska Defense Command, Staff Sergeant Ben Colecchi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benedetto, of 307 White street, has been awarded the Air Medal for outstanding heroism in action.

No word of the award has as yet been received by his parents, they stated today, other than that received from the news dispatches.

Sergeant Colecchi had been listed as missing in action by the War Department on September 11. The citation stated that Sergeant Colecchi stood by his guns, firing at a Jap fighter plane, which had followed his Liberator bomber down as it was forced to land in the waters of Paramushiro Strait, after destroying enemy installations on Paramushiro. Even though the tail of the plane had broken off, and the bomber had started to sink, St. Colecchi kept firing at the enemy plane.

Still Seeking Aid In Pennsylvania

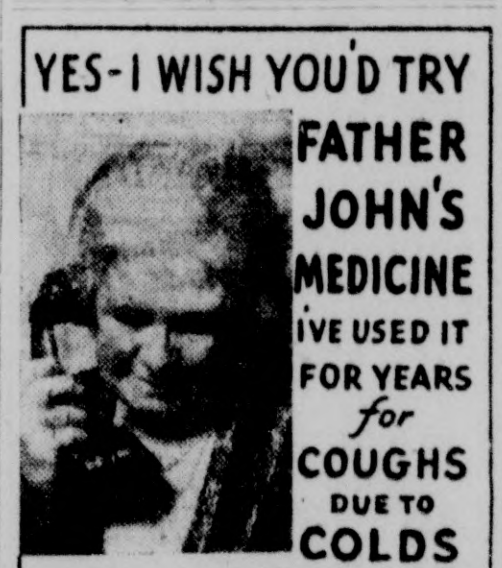

HARRISBURG, Oct. 25.—(INS)—The Department of Public Assistance asserted today that despite the wartime economic boom there are still persons who must seek relief from the state.

Secretary Samuel Y. Ramage disclosed that 462 cases were dropped from the relief rolls during the week ending Oct. 16 while 245 were added.

"Although favorable economic conditions have resulted in almost continuous weekly declines in the rolls during the past four years," he stated, "there are still those who find it necessary to seek aid from the state."

THEY SAVED THE BEANS;

Through the magnificent co-operation of a number of agencies and individuals in the bean harvest this year, we were enabled to get our crop harvested and the beans sent out to aid in the food program.

Without this co-operation, over 100 acres, representing twenty carloads of beans would have been lost. We would be lacking in appreciation if we did not publicly acknowledge our debt of gratitude to these organizations and persons and we do so freely.

It was a remarkable demonstration of the kindness and co-operation of Lawrence County people. We particularly want to thank the following people. If we missed any, the mistake is of the head rather than the heart. To the following, we say "thanks:"

Believe Russia Told No Second Front At Once

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Strong diplomatic belief prevailed in Washington today that the United States and Great Britain have informed Russia it would be premature and hazardous to the allied cause for the Anglo-American armies to attempt to open a major second front in western Europe this year.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden are believed to have expressed this view to Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov in response to the latter's appeal for an all-out allied effort to defeat Germany within the next few months.

Opening Phase Reported
On the basis of the reports which have been received concerning the momentous discussions in Moscow qualified Washington diplomatic observers pictured the opening phase of the conference as having developed as follows:

Molotov insisted that the first item to be discussed on the agenda of the conference should be the military problem of shortening the European conflict. Hull and Eden are believed to have assented to this request.

In the opening stage of the military discussions, Molotov is thought to have emphasized that the main allied task now should be to eliminate the time weapon in the hands of the Nazis by moving without further delay to inflict a decisive defeat.

Molotov is seen as having stressed the Soviet view that the military and political situation in Europe is extremely favorable to the allies and that failure to take advantage of the favorable opportunities will mean unnecessary prolonging of the war.

Probable Reply

In reply, Hull and Eden are believed to have explained that the decision reached at the Quebec conference in August called for the opening of the second front at the earliest possible time that the United States and Great Britain could get ready to launch the invasion with a reasonable hope of success.

At this point, the American and British military advisers are believed to have explained to the Russians the difficulties of amphibious warfare.

It is thought Molotov countered with the argument that Germany's position is weaker than Washington and London realize. He also is believed to have expressed the view that the swiftness of the Soviet advance should enable the timetable of the Quebec strategy to be advanced.

Diplomatic Washington thinks Hull and Eden replied that their instructions were to state the Quebec decision still stands, but that they would report Molotov's views back to President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

ST. VITUS SODALITY DANCE SUCCESSFUL

One of the most successful of early fall dances was that held by sodalists of the St. Vitus Sodality, Saturday evening, at the Catholic Center, North and North Beaver streets, with a large crowd in attendance.

Centering the nicely arranged stage was a statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary, surrounded by lovely flowers, the bouquet being offered by the St. Vitus Sodality.

At 9 o'clock the gay festivities got underway, with approximately 100 soldiers from Camp Reynolds, Transfer, Pa., attending. They shared the fun as honored guests.

A get-acquainted march started the dancing with Angelina Venditto and John Mastrangelo, leading.

A popular local orchestra was engaged to provide the dance melodies. During the course of the evening, prizes were awarded to Margaret Magno for the jitterbug contest, and to Madeline Venditto for the waltz contest.

Miss Lena Mastrangelo was the chairman for the dance, and is due much credit for the success of the dance. She was assisted by the general committee: Mary and Rose Chill, Margaret and Dora Naples, Olga Dell, Catherine Mastrangelo, Edith and Louise DePols, and Angelina and Madeline Venditto; refreshments, Frances Corio, and ticket committee, Carmela DeLuca and Antoinette Call.

Chaperons for the evening included: Dr. and Mrs. John P. Prioretti, Mr. and Mrs. John Mastrangelo, Mrs. Anthony J. Capezio, Mrs. Mary E. Conti and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mongiello.

Declares Fascists Still Hoping For Defeat Of Allies

Count Carlo Sforza, Who Recently Returned To Italy, Makes Statement

By CLARK LEE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

SOMEWHERE IN SOUTHERN ITALY, Oct. 25.—(INS)—There are a "great many Fascists in Italy today who still wish at heart for the defeat of the Allies."

This was the statement of Count Carlo Sforza, outstanding Italian anti-Fascist, one-time foreign minister who recently returned to his homeland after a 15-year exile.

In an interview with this correspondent he charged that these Fascist individuals do not represent the majority in Italy but unfortunately they are in key positions. "They support a secret anti-Allied campaign in which the Russian burzoo is again being raised in an effort to separate the U. S. S. R. from American and Britain," Sforza declared. "Such a rift in the Allied camp is Germany's last hope of getting out of the war undefeated."

Discovery that many Fascists still are in "key positions" was his principal "unpleasant surprise" upon returning to his native land, Sforza said.

"It must be remembered that a great many Fascist generals were in power when the Italo-Allied armistice was signed. Many of them still hold their jobs," he declared. "Unintentionally assisting them are other Italians formerly of liberal tendencies and education but whose minds have been stupefied by Fascist incantations and who now do not trust Allied motives."

NASSAU TRIAL IS IN SECOND WEEK

'Heavy Artillery' To Be Used
By Both Prosecution
And Defense

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NASSAU, Oct. 25.—The second week of the sensational trial of Count Alfred de Marigny for the bludgeon-fire murder of Sir Harry Oakes, his millionaire father-in-law, began today with spectators interested in a "filthy" letter expected to be introduced as evidence.

Both prosecution and defense prepared to bring their "heavy artillery" into action with Capt. Edward Melchen, Miami homicide chief, expected to occupy the stand most of today and the appearance later in the week of Lady Eunice Oakes.

Capt. Melchen, who was summoned to investigate the crime by the Duke of Windsor, governor general of the Bahamas, testified at the preliminary hearing concerning a trip to California by pretty Nancy Oakes with De Marigny before their marriage. He also said De Marigny discussed with him a "filthy letter" written to Lady Oakes by Mrs. Ruth Fahenstock, Schermerhorn, the count's second wife.

The Miami officer likewise is expected to be thoroughly grilled concerning the bloody fingerprint found on the ornamental screen in the murder room, as well as the bloody smudges on the walls, which he examined shortly after the discovery of Sir Harry's burned and beaten body.

A seeming estrangement between Nancy and her mother, Lady Eunice, over her feelings in the case, was the topic of local discussion everywhere in Nassau today. Both are to be called as witnesses as the trial progresses, and therefore neither is permitted in the courtroom.

Nancy has remained at her own residence and has not seen her mother at this writing. Nancy, loyally backing her accused husband, is accessible to reporters and declared she is sorry to have missed her mother. Lady Eunice, however, is in seclusion and refuses even to answer the telephone.

Nancy was quoted as saying: "I believe it is up to my mother to make the next move toward a meeting between us."

Lady Eunice's testimony is expected to be used by the crown to establish the motive for Sir Harry's murder.

body knows you have had to kill. It was your job. You had to do it to get this awful war over. The people at home will understand what you have been through. They'll be so glad to have you back. They'll not ask what you did."

"Then you don't think they'll find a change in me?" The sound of a little hope was in the boy's voice. "Certainly they won't think you've changed. They'll see a strong, brave man coming back. Besides they themselves have changed a little. Perhaps you'll go home to a different world from the one you left. It will be a world that will appreciate what you have done."

"We have got to do something about that world," said Mrs. Roosevelt, solemnly concluding her talk. "We have got to see that the world these men come back to is worth the sacrifice they have made."

I haven't quoted Mrs. Roosevelt exactly. I couldn't take notes as she talked. I was too disturbed. Her words were better, more real than mine. She was completely sincere.

No wonder progress is slow. Men yearn for security and gain it—and then forget that others yearn for it.

Final Week For State Campaign

Heads Of Both Parties See Victory In Voting On November 2

ELECTION CONTEST LARGELY LOCAL

By JOHN PAGET
HARRISBURG, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Both Republican and Democratic leaders spurred party workers in a home stretch drive today as the 1943 off-year election campaign entered the final week.

Both Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor and Auditor General F. Clair Ross, titular head of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania, expressed confidence that their respective sides would win the general election November 2.

G. O. P. Is Confident

Taylor endorsed Gov. Edward Martin's prediction that the G. O. P. would carry more than 50 counties and said the balloting would give some indication of voting trends toward the presidential election in 1944.

"If we fill the court houses and offices in the third class cities this time we'll start off with a pretty big army for next year," Taylor declared.

"The Republican registration majorities will be a big factor November 2 because this fight is strictly an organizational battle."

Ross expressed confidence in Democratic tickets but denied Republican registrations were tantamount to victory.

"Registrations throughout the state are not particularly significant as has been proved in past elections," he stated.

War time apathy marked the election efforts of both parties except in the Philadelphia mayoralty contest where Acting Mayor Bernard Samuel spearheaded a bitter Republican attack against William S. Bullitt, new deal socialite and one time ambassador to France and Russia. Republicans claim Samuel and his running mates will win by majorities ranging up to 50,000 votes while Democrats believe Bullitt will take the city out of the Republican column for the first time in 60 years by more than 50,000 votes.

Only Statewide Contest

In the only statewide contest Democrats were not so certain that Judge Curtis Bok, of the Philadelphia common pleas court, would upset incumbent Judge Claude T. Reno, of Allentown, for an $18,000 superior court post. Reno was named to the bench last December by former Gov. Arthur H. James as a reward for faithful service as attorney general. He filled a vacancy created by the death of Judge Jesse E. B. Cunningham of Philadelphia.

Approximately 4,551,400 Pennsylvanians will be eligible to vote at the election. Indicative of the disinterest surrounding the primary campaign was the announcement by the state elections bureau that only 1,170,367 votes were cast for Reno and Bok in the primary.

In addition to filling the high court, voters will elect mayors in 27 third class cities, select 48 lower court judges and fill hundreds of offices in counties, cities, boroughs and townships.

Only one congressional vacancy will be filled November 2. Voters in the 23rd congressional district, embracing Blair, Center and Clearfield counties, must elect a successor for James E. Van Zandt, of Altoona, now a lieutenant commander in the Navy. The Republicans have hand-picked D. Emmert Brumbaugh, of Claysburg, to oppose Miss Edna Marsden, of Clearfield, a Democrat.

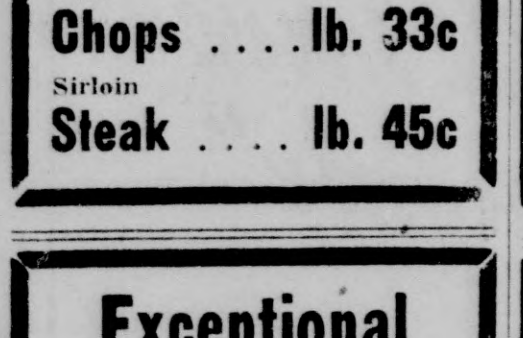

BUTLER PARATROOPER IS KILLED IN ACTION

BUTLER Pa., Oct. 25.—A 24-year-old Butler county paratrooper, Pvt. Ralph R. Young of Sarver, was killed Sept. 17 during the invasion of Italy, according to word received from the War Department.

Pvt. Young, who had participated in campaigns in North Africa, Sicily and Sardinia, was the 42nd Butler countian to lose his life in the present war.

CORPORAL HAS FEATURE ROLE

Mimic And Impersonator Will Appear In All-Soldier Show October 27

CORPORAL TOM KINKAID

By this time, getting a ticket for "Soldiers In Grease Paint" is like finding a German in city of Algiers. They're that scarce, both Germans and tickets. Somewhere scattered around the city there are about 32,000 tickets for the all soldier show which comes to the Cathedral on Wednesday night October 27 for the benefit of the WAC recruiting drive.

The cast of "Soldiers In Grease Paint" is as star studded as a Hollywood premier, well nearly as many. Almost every man in the cast was a professional entertainer in civil life and today we give you Corporal Tom Kinkaid, a mimic and impersonator a lad who once drew down important folding money but who today is drawing down $54 per month and his cokes.

Has Featured Spot

The corporal has a featured spot on the program Wednesday night and his act was a show stopper in Pittsburgh and Erie. With him are other stars whose names meant box office before Pearl Harbor.

The show will get into New Castle Wednesday in charge of Sergeant Harry Leeds, the producer of the show. Sergeant Leeds was a master of ceremonies before donning a uniform and was known from Broadway to Hollywood and Vine as Alan Barrie.

The men in the cast will stay in the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night and meals will be served them by the U. S. O. After the show the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the sponsoring body for the show will entertain the men in the VFW hall.

Because the show is for the purpose of stimulating interest in WAC recruiting, some 28 good looking WACS will be present to assist the ushers. At intermission time Captain Hill of the WAC's will deliver a recruiting address.

War To Produce Many More Mental Cases Says Doctor

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—(INS)—The present war will produce many more mental cases than the first World War, according to Dr. Edward A. Strecker, professor of psychiatry at the University of Pennsylvania.

Such casualties, Dr. Strecker told the 51st annual convention of the Military Surgeons of the United States in Philadelphia, were the most costly casualty of the last war. A normal well balanced man, he added, who could have gone through previous wars without psychic difficulties, may break under the strain of present fighting.

The reason for this, the psychiatrist said, is that the current conflict has put a more continuous strain on both the body and emotions. Human being can hold up under one sudden shock much better than a long drawn-out emotional strain.

TROUSER CUFFS TO BE ALLOWED IN NEAR FUTURE
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(INS)—A War Production Board official revealed today that all men—whether short or tall—soon will be able to have cuffs on their trousers. An order lifting the cuff restriction is "in the mill," he said. Only short men who meet WPB specification are now allowed cuffs on their trousers. Tall men are required to wear the military style pants without cuffs. Meanwhile, WPB officials are discussing the possibility of relaxing all the remaining restrictions on the use of wool on account of better shipping conditions and declining military procurements, the agency announced.

Sub Losses Reach Thirteen By Latest Report From Navy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(INS)—The total number of American submarines lost since the beginning of the war rose to 13 today with the navy's announcement of the loss of the Dorado.

A communique disclosed that the 1,525-ton Dorado, one of the navy's most modern submarines, was presumably the victim of Japanese counter-action while attacking enemy supply lines in the far Pacific. The Dorado was commanded by Lieut. Comdr. Earle Caffrey Schneider, 31, of Arnold, Maryland. The vessel, one of the 73 fleet submarines of the Gato class, had been in service less than two months when it disappeared.

The surface area of the oceans is more than twice that of the land.

Synthetic Tires For Entire Army

War Department Official
Says All Army Vehicles
Soon On Synthetic Rubber

SUBSTITUTE TIRES DOING GOOD JOB

By ERWIN D. SIAS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A war department official disclosed today that all of the army's new motor vehicles—from little jeeps to tremendous 240 mm. howitzer guns—soon will be rolling entirely on 100 per cent synthetic rubber tires.

This optimistic view of the synthetic rubber production program came from S. P. Thacher, chief of the rubber branch, army service forces, who said that the war department is satisfied the substitute rubber tires are doing "a perfectly good job."

Near 100 Per Cent Basis

"We hope to get on a 100 per cent synthetic basis soon," Thacher declared, adding that "great progress has been made since the war department started its synthetic rubber program in July, 1942."

Already, all of the army's smallest tires—used on passenger cars, jeeps, small trucks, motorcycles, etc.—are being produced of 100 per cent synthetic rubber," he said.

"Medium size tires used on combat and transport vehicles up to two and a half tons, constituting 60 per cent of the total amount of tires used by the army, are being made of 90 per cent synthetics."

In the larger size tires, however, more natural rubber is used. Thacher said that increasing supplies of rayon, vital to larger tires, are rapidly making it possible to turn all army tire manufacture over to synthetics, however.

Staff Of Medical Experts Is Planned To Aid In Draft

Field Agents To Aid Local Boards In Reducing Nervous, Mental Discharges

By TONY ZECCA

HARRISBURG, Oct. 25.—Col. Richard K. Mellon, state selective service director, was planning today the organization of a staff of medical field agents to aid local boards reduce discharges from the service for nervous and mental reasons.

Approximately 10,000 Pennsylvanians will have been discharged during 1943 for those causes it was estimated on the basis of the 100,000 total expected for the nation.

Mellon was notified by Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national director, of the program in which trained persons investigate the background of registrants on the request of local boards so that induction centers will have all details. They will be appointed in Pennsylvania as soon as a complete program is mapped.

The agents will be named by Mellon for all local board areas. They must be "educational trained or occupationally qualified to do health or social work in a public or private social or health agency of recognized standing."

They will secure information concerning the "medical and social history" of registrants when directed by local board chairmen. It was explained that the information is then included with the registrant's record when sent to the induction station.

Headquarters asserted that determining a registrant's capabilities for service was a "difficult and exacting" process. With added information from the medical field agents, military doctors would be able to decide a registrant's qualifications more accurately.

It was pointed out that nervous and mental causes were responsible for the greatest number of discharges. A report showed that 2500 veterans of the present war were discharged and returned to one state prior to Aug. 1, 1942. Forty per cent of them were released for mental and emotional disorders which had incapacitated them for military duty, and of that number 62 per cent were ill enough to require hospitalization.

Medical field agents were expected to greatly cut down discharges for those disorders by compiling information which will enable army authorities to determine whether a inductee would "crack" under the pressure of modern warfare.

Probe Under Way In Fire At Easton

Death Toll In Blast Is Two, With 20 Or More Workers Injured

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 25.—(INS)—An FBI probe was under way today into the explosion and six-hour fire which swept through the Metropolitan-Edison company's gas works in Easton yesterday, cutting off gas service to thousands of homes and war plants.

The death toll remained at two, with 20 or more night shift workers injured. More than 1,000 residents of nearby areas, evacuated from their homes during the blaze, were permitted to return today.

Company officials said service would be restored to essential industries in Easton and nearby Philadelphia, N. J., within three days. They added, however, that 75,000 households in the area served by the company would have to wait longer for restoration of normal service.

The explosion occurred at 5:15 a. m., shortly after John Kepic, 32, a truck driver from Dunmore, Pa., delivered a truckload of oil to the North Front street plant, only two blocks from the heart of the city's business district. Kepic and Henry Jordan of Easton, an employee at the plant, were killed.

Hundreds of windows in the business district and in Phillipsburg, across the Delaware river, were shattered. All available firemen from Easton and nearby communities fought the resultant fire for six hours, augmented by Civilian Defense and Red Cross workers.

Civilians ordered from their homes at the height of the blaze were fed at Red Cross feeding stations.

The city was saved from a major disaster by speedy draining of the plant's main gas tank.

BAN LIFTED ON TURKEY FOR CIVILIAN TABLES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(INS)—Civilians will have turkey Thanksgiving after all.

They will be permitted to buy turkey beginning Monday morning, when the embargo on civilian sales in effect since Aug. 2 will be lifted, the War Food Administration announced.

The embargo was lifted after the army advised the WFA that the 12,000,000 pounds required for overseas holiday dinners were on their way and that a considerable portion of the 23,000,000 pounds needed for the armed services in this country had been purchased.

Milk Price Boost Still In Dispute

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh director of the Office of Price Administration declared today that he will not permit a state-ordered increase in milk prices unless orders to the contrary come from Washington.

Loran L. Lewis, District OPA enforcement attorney, said the price increases could not be made "without violating OPA regulations. The State Milk Control commission ordered prices raised Nov. 1 from 15 1/2 to 17 1/2 cents a quart whether OPA approves or not."

Lewis has threatened to fight any price increase with injunctions against milk distributors who obey the state milk commission's order. State Commission Chairman John M. McKee defiantly declared "The next move is up to the government," indicating the commission will stand pat on its order. He said the price increases were ordered in "the public interest" to induce greater production of milk.

Christmas Packages Improperly Addressed Can Now Be Rемаiled

CAMP REYNOLDS, Oct. 25.—Christmas packages for soldiers overseas which have been returned to the sender because of an improper address still may be mailed, the war department announced today.

The original wrapper, bearing the endorsement, "Return to Sender, Insufficient Address," must be submitted with the correctly addressed package to prove that the package originally was mailed before the October 15 deadline for overseas Christmas packages.

The war department also announced that Christmas packages may be mailed to soldiers going overseas between now and Christmas. When the sender presents his package to the post office for mailing he must bring the change of address form containing the APO address to which the package is being sent. These change of address forms are sent by soldiers to their relatives and friends when they are transferred to new stations.

Except under these circumstances, pre-Christmas regulations requiring requests from soldiers before packages can be mailed overseas are still in effect.

The following model shows the correct way to address overseas mail.

Pvt. John K. Doe, 32,000,002, Company F, 167th Infantry, APO 309, c/o Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

Change of address forms or new addresses otherwise communicated by soldiers to their correspondents should be copies verbatim in addressing mail to them.

PRIVATE FRED CLONCE WOUNDED IN AFRICA RECOVERING NICELY

Mr. and Mrs. George Grieder, of 627 East Washington street, have received word from their daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Clonce, visiting with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Foster, Hobart, Nebraska, stating that she has received word from her husband, Private Fred Clonce, dated October 4, reporting that he is recovering nicely in the hospital "over there."

A week ago, Mrs. Clonce received word from the War Department stating that her husband had been slightly wounded in the North African battle area, on September 22.

Private Clonce was driving a jeep, later found himself in the hospital, he says in his letter, "I can't figure out what happened but—I'm as well as possible and have high hopes of a quick recovery—complete." He is with the Seventh Army under General Patton.

FORMER RESIDENT HAS HUGE APPETITE

According to an item published in the Ft. Bliss, Texas, newspaper, Pfc. Paul Ankey, of Mansfield, O., formerly of New Castle, is no glutton. He's just hungry and likes hot dogs.

One evening 57 hot dogs were left over, and Ankey said there was no use throwing them away. He'd eat 'em, he did. And the next night 32. And the next night 40, the paper says.

The boys are betting he'll eat 70 now, just to get his name in the paper again.

Ankey, incidentally, is the boy who stood up in an artillery barrage and said, "Sergeant, what do I do now?"

Pfc. Ankey has been stationed overseas since July, and is now in Italy.

Westminster Has 650 In Service Of Country At War

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 25.—Stationed all the way from the dense jungles of South Pacific islands to the naval aviation training unit on the campus, approximately 650 Westminster college alumni are serving in the army, navy, marines, coast guard and the R. C. A. F. Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, president, announced.

Into the army and the army air corps have gone 460 men of Westminster. Four former women students belong to the WAVES, six to the WAVES, one each to the SPARS and the U. S. Marines women's auxiliary. It's a sailor's life for 158 ex-collegians while 34 serve in the U. S. Marines, five in the Coast Guard and one each in the Seabees and the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Of the men who have seen action, nine from Westminster have given their lives.

The college maintains close touch with all the men. Each man receives weekly copies of the campus newspaper and a letter from President Galbreath.

Ben Franklin Wins Third Straight Junior High Title

Patriot Eleven Downs Washington Gridders, 12-0; 2,500 See Game

Rivals Play Exciting Contest Saturday Night; Winners Score In Second, Fourth

Resourceful Ben Franklin, unbeaten during the past two seasons, continued its winning pace, Saturday night at Taggart stadium, by repulsing a surprisingly strong George Washington eleven, 12-0. A crowd of 2,500 saw the Patriots gain their third straight City Junior high championship.

Their running attack stymied by an effective seven-man line stretched by the north hinders, Franklin was forced to resort to the air lanes to annex its first six-pointer.

With four minutes of the half left, Franklin gained possession on the Washington 40. Then Johnny Palko started hurling. First he heaved to Abraham for a first down on the 30. Next he found Fomka open down the middle alley for another first down.

A bad pass from center resulted in a 14-yard loss and sent the east side back to the 32. Palko flipped to Fomka twice and a third to Gentile, sub blocking back, for 15 yards and a score. Hill failed to add the extra point when he punched at the line.

Washington's hard charging line proved more than a match for the champs in the third. Neither club reached the shadow of the "g.".

The fourth period was packed with action as the Washingtoners threatened. The Alexander-coached unit dug down to the 11 but an ineffective passing attack and a 5-yard penalty marred the scoring chance as Franklin took over on its 19.

Arthur Hill, Johnny Palko and Walter Smith each took a stab at the line in a successful 81-yard march which netted the Franklin an unneeded touchdown. With time for only one play and the ball on the Washington 15, Hill took the ball and faked it to Palko. He whizzed to the right and then cunningly slipped it to Walter Smith who dashed to the left for the score.

Washington Rugged
In defeat, Washington won the acclaim of the crowd, mostly students of the two schools. Checked by Franklin's heavier line, the north hinders proved an exceptionally stiff opponent.

Washington failed to make a first down while the champ added nine. George Williams and Donald Dean spearheaded the line play of the champs. Walter Smith played his best game of the year and counted off numerous substantial yardage for the winning eleven.

Arthur Hill was the leading ground gained with 45 yards in 11 attempts.

Washington managed to stop Johnny Palko from breaking loose on the ground but the east side gave an "Annie" Bertelli demonstration, completing seven out of 11 aerials.

Don Gurgio, the classy Tiger back, was the outstanding defensive player on the field, throttling the Franklin backs repeatedly. Stewart and Grimm flashed fine form on the Washington line.

Another Comeback Win
The victory is another feather in the cap of Coach Austin Comeadow and his assistant, George Binder. Since taking over the coaching post, Comeadow has pinned together probably the most impressive junior high record in the district. His teams have yet to lose a decision.

The team is well-represented at all 11 posts and shows few weaknesses. Art Alexander, Washington mentor, unfurled an exceptionally powerful combination. Despite the fact that they were handicapped by Franklin's heavier line and backs the Alexander boys were in the tilt all the way.

Franklin tries to add the county Junior high title to its list Thursday afternoon, playing Ellwood City on Taggart stadium field. The setto starts at 3:30 o'clock.

JB Softballers, County Champs, Feted Saturday

Rosey Rowsell Main Speaker; Country Club Event Attended By 85

After showing the way to all and sundry softball teams in the county during the past season and emerging as county champions, the Johnson Bronze company softball team took time out Saturday night to enjoy a chicken dinner, an address by Rosey Rowsell and a vaudeville show from Pittsburgh. The affair was held in the New Castle Country Club. About 85 attended.

The evening's program was not alone to honor the soft ball champs but also to honor the picnic committee which did such a fine job in the summer putting on the plant picnic in Cascade Park. There was enough glory to go around just as there was enough roast chicken prepared by E. D. Hawk and his assistants.

Pep Singing

During the dinner a session of pep singing was held directed by the chairman of the evening, Joe Diffley, and the master of ceremonies, Harold Kelly. Following the singing of dinner, Chairman Diffley spoke briefly, congratulated the team upon its stellar work and introduced the toastmaster, Bart Richards.

First on the program was the presentation of the trophy by Jack Gerson who has been donating softball league trophies since 1931. After the discovery of the art of engraving, Jack was flattered in his remarks concerning the team, wished them well for next season and then presented the trophy to Leo "Tex" Kelly, the captain who responded. He then introduced the men who brought the championship to the Johnson Bronze, the team members. Every one of them got a hand.

The toastmaster then presented to Captain Bud "Scar" Russler, an ingeniously designed cup symbolical of the prowess of the "Nine Old Men". Russler capitulated but never let the field of battle. Captain Russler still insists his team will win the championship if the regulars would lend him "Gabby" Kendra for a pitcher. The champs defaulted the game and presented Captain Russler with a cup. He responded in a humorous vein.

Then Came Rosey

Then came the incomparable Rosey Rowsell, left of the Aunt Minnie fame. Rosey combined wit and philosophy, humor and optimism, drollness and decency. He was at his best Saturday night when he spoke on "Laughing At The Clouds."

"There's still something to laugh about," said Rosey, "even though the clouds are dark. Just a while ago a friend of mine who has a son in the South Pacific said, 'There isn't anything to laugh about these days.' And then the next day the newspapers carried the account that Eleanor had landed in Australia."

Rosey had the crowd in gales of laughter one minute and in a comber mood an instant later as he drove home some of his philosophy.

He was a triple starved success. The floor show, starring Donna Geisler, recently returned from the Aleutians on a five months tour of army camps, followed. The entire show, "Emceed" by Sally Rice, was good.

It was a red letter night for the men present. It put a golden finish to a successful season upon the Johnson Bronze. And judging from the fun the team had, they are going out next year to win the championship if only to rate another big evening.

Quick Pickups

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Quick pickups: Branch Rickey has indicated that this afternoon he will advise the Borough of Flatbush and the world in general whether Leo Durocher is to remain in office as manager. The wagering is even money that Leo will be back again, despite reports that Bill Terry has reached an agreement on the job.

It can be said authoritatively that major league baseball clubs would rather train in sunny climes, although accepting the travel ban keeping them nearer home again next spring. Some observers thought that eastern and mid-western training last season would result in the clubs picking these spots permanently, but they won't. When the war is over they will head back to Florida, California and way points.

LUTACK FOR BERTELLI

With Angelo Bertelli slated to leave Notre Dame for Paris Island after the Navy game next week, the sideline quarterback is saying that the Italian's place with the Irish eleven will be filled by a Pole named Johnny Lutack, a sophomore.

He's a husky lad from Pennsylvania and rated a potential star.

Zeke Bonura wasn't much of a big player as major leaguers go when he was floundering around first base, but nobody ever said an unkind word about him personally and the legion of merit award which he has received in North Africa couldn't happen to a better guy.

A lot of kids with more courage than adult savers are playing football this season on the major gridirons. Penn, for instance, used 16-year-old John Small as a blocking back against Columbia.

Columbia is terribly weak but that still sounds like sending a boy on a man's errand. This is the year when some of the teams have experienced players in their lineups and when many of them are cluttered up with stars of recent years on college gridirons.

Michigan, Purdue Big Ten Leaders

Both Teams Score Convincing Victories Saturday; Indiana Gridders In Running

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—(INS)—Michigan and Purdue appeared destined today to share the western conference football crown unless Navy orders further weaken either team for the remainder of the season.

Michigan's smashing 49 to 6 victory over Minnesota at Ann Arbor, the most decisive whipping absorbed by the Gophers in their 51-year history, stamped the Wolverines as one of the outstanding elevens of the Midwest.

Purdue's decisive 28 to 7 victory over the Iowa Hawkeyes at Iowa City, gives the Boilermakers an undefeated slate thus far. As Michigan (Continued On Page Fifteen)

'Away' Contest Stiffest Test Of Season For WUJAL Defending Champions

Ordinarily, New Castle high's footballers look toward Monday as a day of leisure. Today, however, the red and black standard carriers are as busy as welders in a navy yard.

Principal reason for the sudden shift in plans is a school named Clairton high, across from McKeesport.

Friday night, the local WPJAL champions jaunt to the busy industrial town to engage Coach George Hartman's pile-driving juggernaut, a combination that has strung together 20 straight victories, seven of them this season.

In western Pennsylvania, the clash is the most important on the scholastic front. Winner of this game likely will be one of the participants in the annual class AA WPJAL title game.

Taking a tip from many of the leading colleges, Coach Hartman hatched his star to the T-formation, modified form. Thus far, the system has been unstopper with the Hartman-piloted crew scoring at least three touchdowns in all of its games this year and four times passing the 30-point mark.

Coach Bridenbaugh and his proteges are fully aware of the task that confronts them and, consequently, will spend the entire week trying to fashion a defense to throttle the deceptive and hard stopping system resurrected from the archives by Clark Shaughnessy.

Test For Line
New Castle's big line, which has played rings around its foes so far, will meet its test. The Clairtons, whose nickname, incidentally, is Hurricanes, is jam-packed with beef height and above par playing ability.

The local mentor has cautioned his proteges about the rugged front line and is stressing the fact that the athletes will have to be in superb form, physically as well as mentally, if they expect to provide a busy evening for the host aggregation.

New Castle's offense and defense will be overhauled several times this week. Coach Bridenbaugh indicated that several changes will have to be made, not in personnel, but in playing form. To do this, the locals will have to spend countless hours at Taggart stadium.

In the Butler setto, the undefeated locals sustained no injuries and should be in top shape for the big one.

Clairton Drills
Clairton also is omitting the Monday recess to prepare for what the figure will be their eighth straight triumph of the season and 21st in succession.

The Pittsburgh district team has few flaws, according to close observers. The line, as stated a few paragraphs above, is a coach's dream come true. "Buttons" Lamendola is a breakaway runner who has few peers. The fullback is close to unstoppable as possible. Len Kalovich, at right half, beat Charlejo single-handed, scoring all three touchdowns last Friday and packs class.

Fans from both cities are evincing unusual interest in the contest. By kickoff time, 8 o'clock, the stands will be overcrowded with at least 12,000 fans, well past the Clairton stadium's capacity.

State Soccer Team Rests On Saturday

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 25.—Penn State's soccer team will enjoy a day of rest Saturday while Coach Bill Jeffrey reorganizes his forces for the November 6 engagement with Navy at Annapolis.

Like the football team, the booters are scheduled to lose several of their best performers when the first Navy V-12 contingent leaves the campus. The lapse in the schedule, however, was provided by a cancellation rather than by prearrangement.

Montgomery-Scalzo Swap Blows Tonight

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—(INS)—Bob Montgomery, dusky lightweight titlist, meets Pete Scalzo, former feather weight champ from New York, in a 10-round, non-title match at Philadelphia's convention hall tonight.

The Bobcat, appearing in a tune-out bout for his Madison Square Garden bout with Beau Jack in November, will be heavily favored. The Philadelphia has won four fights since he dethroned Beau Jack on May 21, and expects to weigh in at 125. Scalzo, victorious in three bouts since moving up in the weight ranks, probably will scale 137.

Quick Pickups

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Quick pickups: Branch Rickey has indicated that this afternoon he will advise the Borough of Flatbush and the world in general whether Leo Durocher is to remain in office as manager. The wagering is even money that Leo will be back again, despite reports that Bill Terry has reached an agreement on the job.

It can be said authoritatively that major league baseball clubs would rather train in sunny climes, although accepting the travel ban keeping them nearer home again next spring. Some observers thought that eastern and mid-western training last season would result in the clubs picking these spots permanently, but they won't. When the war is over they will head back to Florida, California and way points.

LUTACK FOR BERTELLI

With Angelo Bertelli slated to leave Notre Dame for Paris Island after the Navy game next week, the sideline quarterback is saying that the Italian's place with the Irish eleven will be filled by a Pole named Johnny Lutack, a sophomore.

He's a husky lad from Pennsylvania and rated a potential star.

Zeke Bonura wasn't much of a big player as major leaguers go when he was floundering around first base, but nobody ever said an unkind word about him personally and the legion of merit award which he has received in North Africa couldn't happen to a better guy.

A lot of kids with more courage than adult savers are playing football this season on the major gridirons. Penn, for instance, used 16-year-old John Small as a blocking back against Columbia.

Columbia is terribly weak but that still sounds like sending a boy on a man's errand. This is the year when some of the teams have experienced players in their lineups and when many of them are cluttered up with stars of recent years on college gridirons.

Michigan, Purdue Big Ten Leaders

Both Teams Score Convincing Victories Saturday; Indiana Gridders In Running

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—(INS)—Michigan and Purdue appeared destined today to share the western conference football crown unless Navy orders further weaken either team for the remainder of the season.

Michigan's smashing 49 to 6 victory over Minnesota at Ann Arbor, the most decisive whipping absorbed by the Gophers in their 51-year history, stamped the Wolverines as one of the outstanding elevens of the Midwest.

Purdue's decisive 28 to 7 victory over the Iowa Hawkeyes at Iowa City, gives the Boilermakers an undefeated slate thus far. As Michigan (Continued On Page Fifteen)

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Sam Parks, Jr., and Jack Benson and Dr. Regis Wolff and Frank Nash captured exhibition best ball golf victories Sunday in matches played on Allegheny county courses. Parks and Benson defeated Julius Platts, western Pennsylvania open champion, and Wally Grant, Castle Shannon professional, 1 up at South Hills. Parks' 15-foot putt for a birdie on No. 16 won the match. Wolff and Nash took a 1 up win their victims being Steve Kovach Brackenridge Heights, and Dr. Joe Stanger at the Highland club.

Sergeant of Marines Barney Ross, one of the heroes of Guadalcanal has suffered a relapse and is back in the naval hospital at St. Albans, N. Y.

Boston college's young civilians directed by Ed Doherty, defeated Camp Hingham, 42-6, before 4,066 fans at Fenway park, Boston, Saturday.

Ossie Bluege, who guided the Washington Senators to second place in the American League, has signed a new two-year contract, the first two-year contract granted a Senator since 1929.

Harry Babo, heavyweight fighter now in service, won a marksmanship shooting test at Camp Lee recently, which proves his eyes are in good shape.

Owen Fox, city forester, has placed signs in various city parks and also the N.Y.A. center which assert "Hunting banned."

Hornets To Open Season Tuesday

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—(INS)—In preparation for the opening of the American League Hockey season, the Pittsburgh Hornets were holding drills today at The Gardens for their game with the Barons at Cleveland tomorrow. The Hornets arrived yesterday from Detroit, where they had been training.

All athletic coaches are participating in the Army and Navy physical conditioning programs at Penn State this year.

Sgt. Joe Louis Property-Rich

Owens Farm, Ranch, Other Real Estate; Owes Jasobs About $50,000

By DAVIS J. WALSH
CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The item which got a modest page 5 "play" in the local papers, simply said that Marva Trotter, Louis' estranged wife of Joe, wished to announce that she had decided to become a singer and, as such, was fresh out of employment. But it seems this hardly told half the story. Or possibly even the right one.

It seems, in fact, that Joe Louis himself no longer is what the boys jocosely call a rich millionaire; that, incredibly though it may seem, he might even be financially abashed.

Made Over Million
In six years of fighting in the top-drawer league, both before and after winning the heavyweight championship of the world, he probably received considerably in excess of a million dollars as his personal share of the purses. Besides, other valuable considerations, as the Philadelphia lawyers say.

But today, if various local estimates are to be accepted as wholly valid, there's so little remaining in tangible currency that, if he discharged his outstanding obligations, his solvency would be seriously strained. Perhaps wiped out altogether.

The obligations are (A) $50,000 in personal loans from Mike Jacobs and (B) $110,000 in back taxes to the government, neither of which need to be paid until Louis is out of the army and in the money again. However, right now, they say, the "out" and "in" situation is so thoroughly in reverse that the man presently may have to do one of two things:

Either start looking for what is approximately known as "movement money," or take the indicated steps by which he can stop being property-poor.

Owens Farm, Ranch
Among other things, the owns a farm, a ranch and some real estate. He also bought a home for his mother, set his family up in various ways that were not inexpensive and has endured the frequent "bite" from friends without a yowl.

Incidentally, one of the best ways of explaining about the money he "didn't have" is to mention the fact that, for seven years between 1935 and 1942, he has been paying into the coffers of the treasury department at least 40 per cent of his earned income.

Michigan, Purdue Big Ten Leaders

gan and Purdue will not meet this year, they appeared to be headed for a share in the Big Ten title. Purdue still must meet Minnesota, but the poor showing the Gophers made last Saturday forecasts a victory for the Boilermakers.

Indiana Holds Key
Indiana, however, holds the key to the conference crown. The steadily improving Hoosiers, who shut out Wisconsin 34 to 0, at Bloomington, is a civilian outfit and not likely to lose many players before meeting Michigan and Purdue.

Michigan lost Capt. Paul White after the Minnesota game, and two more regulars, Bill Daley and Merv Pregulman, will be lost for the Illinois game this week.

By thrashing the Gophers, Michigan took possession for the year of the little brown jug, emblematic of a long rivalry between the two schools.

STATE TO PLAY WEST VIRGINIA NEXT SATURDAY

Foes Meet For 12th Time At State College; Lions Win Seven Times

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 25.—Penn State's Nittany Lions open the last half of their schedule when they face West Virginia here Saturday for the 12th time since 1904.

The Lions have lost to the Mountaineers only three times, while emerging triumphant on seven occasions. The 1923 game—one of the best in the series—ended in a 13-13 tie.

Penn State had enrolled five straight wins before 1923, and thereafter was denied victory until the series was resumed in 1940. West Virginia won two straight, in 1925 and 1931.

Last year, the Mountaineers administered the most galling defeat of the series. The 24-0 shellacking deprived Penn State of an undefeated season, but provided the incentive for subsequent victories over Syracuse, Penn and Pitt.

Accountants To Attend Meeting

Representatives of the Pennsylvania Power company have also been invited to assist in greeting the Pennsylvania members of the chapter.

Bears, Redskins Lead Pro League

Pitt Eagles, 42 to 14, at New York. A crowd of 35,540 fans at Washington saw right halfback Moore save the day for the Redskins in the fading moments of the game with the Cardinals.

Ed Rucinski scored for the Redskins on a pass from Walter Masters' pass on the 10-yard line, dashed 48 yards upfield and ended the Cardinals' hopes of tying the score.

Score Two Touchdowns
The Redskins tallied twice in the third period. Ed Rucinski scored for the Cardinals on a pass from Masters in the fourth period.

The Dodgers, scoreless in four league games, rang up three touchdowns for their new coach Pete Cawthon but they weren't enough to win from the Bears at Chicago.

George Wilson got two touchdowns for the Bears. Doug McLean scored another and Dante Magnani scampered 39 yards for the fourth, the longest run from scrimmage in the league this year.

The largest crowd of the day, 42,681, saw the Giants smother the Steagles at the Polo grounds. The Giants rolled up two touchdowns in the first three periods then sent in the second stringers against whom the Steagles scored twice in the final quarter.

Another large crowd, 41,463 fans, saw the Packers take to the air to rout the Lions at Detroit. Sparked by Irving Comp, whose 14 passes netted 201 yards, the Packers covered 326 yards through the air.

night 7-6 for the first time in eight years. The Carnegie Tech Skibos were pulling themselves together for a tussle with the Pitt Panthers after a 32 to 0 decision. Pitt, previously boasting of a measly 20 to 1 victory over West Virginia in four starts, defeated Bethany 18 to 0.

Penn State, in the midst of a so-so season turned the heat on Maryland and ran the score to 45 to 0 before the final whistle while the evening upset a scoring record of 18 years by dumping City College of New York 70 to 13.

The previous record was 70 to 13 compiled against Haverford College in 1925.

Moose Observe Birthday Sunday
Anniversary Is Commemorated By Initiation Of Large Class Of Candidates

New Castle Lodge No. 51, Loyal Order of Moose, observed the 35th anniversary of the founding of the local lodge on Sunday afternoon, with an appropriate program in the Moose Temple.

Initiation of one of the largest classes of candidates taken into the lodge in some time, was the crowning event of the day's program, the initiation ceremony being conducted under the direction of Governor George R. Gettins by the crack degree and drill teams of the lodge.

Afterwards there was a dinner for the candidates and their families, and dancing took place during the evening, with a fine floor show.

The program was enjoyed by a large number of the members of the Moose Temple, and Dr. John Sayles, of Washington, Pa., were present and addressed the huge class of 439 candidates.

Among those initiated were Douglas Kerns, who came all the way from Baltimore for the ceremony.

The new group of candidates will swell the membership of Lodge 51 to over 2,000, Governor George R. Gettins states.

Corporal Orville Yahn Writes From Germany

Local Prisoner Of War Meets Another Ellwood Boy, Charles Cole, In Germany

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Yahn, of Fourth street, this city, has received the following letter from her son, Corp. Orville C. Yahn, who has been held as a German prisoner since the North African campaign.

May 23, 1943.
Dear Folks:
"This Sunday afternoon drawing to a close, I will pass a few enjoyable moments writing to you. It has been three months since I was captured, but time seems to be passing very slowly. We are learning to know each other very well and the fellows are getting along fine together.

"Incidentally, I've met a boy here in camp who, believe it or not, is also from Ellwood City. I never knew him back home. His name is Charles Cole and he lives on the North Side. He told me that he mentioned my name in one of his letters home so perhaps you may hear from his mother.

"Have you heard from 'Buck' and 'Jim'?"
"Gathered about in groups here, are many American soldiers. Although prisoners of war, their spirit is not broken and each man is eagerly looking forward to the day, when, as in the song, the lights will again go on, all over the world.

"Hope this letter finds everyone well and in the best of spirits. Not quite a year has passed since I left the states, but it has been long enough to miss all of you and the old home town very much. Only wish I could see Jean and Evelyn growing into fine young ladies.

"A couple of air corps boys, who have been prisoners for quite some time, received packages from home the other day. They contained such items as towels, socks, underwear, toilet articles, instant coffee, cocoa, toilet soap, chocolate, candy, pipes, smoking tobacco and so on. Give my regards to Marion and all the boys.

"Will close by saying best of everything. Love, Orville."

Ellwood Coach Gets Commission

Thurman F. 'Dutch' Croft Begins Assignment With Naval Reserve On Wednesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—Thurman F. "Dutch" Croft, popular head coach of the Ellwood City high school football and basketball teams and member of the high school teaching staff, has been commissioned a lieutenant (junior grade) in the U. S. Navy.

Croft will leave on Wednesday for Pittsburgh where he will be assigned as a deck officer volunteer specialist.

For nine years, he has been associated with the Ellwood City schools coming here directly after his graduation from Carnegie Tech. At Tech, he has been an outstanding all-American football star.

Seven years ago, he took over the local high school football coaching reins and in that time has produced a number of teams that have made grid history in this district. Year after year, he produced teams that defeated all the Beaver Valley teams, a feat Ellwood had been unable to achieve for a number of years.

At present high praise for Croft is heard everywhere for the notable job done this year in molding from a corps of willing but inexperienced Junior high griders, a team that is exceptionally good and which has great W. P. I. A. L. prospects for next year.

Completion of this year's season will be handled by his assistant, Howard B. Gills, it is understood. Games remain set with New Brighton, Beaver Falls and Beaver.

Academically, Croft has been an able teacher in the arithmetic and civics field, and has also aided with shop work.
